Global Green Growth Week 2016

5 - 9 SEPTEMBER 2016

The Global Green Growth Institute is pleased to announce it will host Global Green Growth Week on 5-9 September 2016 in Jeju Island, Republic of Korea. The Week will convene a series of high level dialogues and events highlighting cutting-edge research, partnerships, innovative financing, and private sector solutions that can help countries make green growth a reality. Topics to be highlighted include implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals and Intended Nationally Determined Contributions, and access to climate financing.

WHAT TO EXPECT

The 2016 Global Green Growth Summit will stimulate policy discussions between public and private sectors to increase green investment flows that aim to:

- Leverage international green finance, including private capital, multilateral grants, equity, guarantees, and climate finance investments;
- Create innovative national green finance options; and
- Support governments and private institutions to develop bankable projects.

The Green Growth Exhibit and Networking Event will serve as a dynamic, inspiring platform for sponsors and partners to showcase their green growth achievements, innovations, and technologies.

Side Events will include customized sessions, special lectures, capacity building activities, and presentations on specific aspects of green growth, particularly related to the week's themes of social inclusion and green investment. These will include opportunities to discuss the multiplier effect of multilateral partnerships in program implementation.

The 2016 Green Growth Knowledge Platform Annual Conference will advance efforts to deliver pro-poor inclusive green growth through expert and practitioner dialogues that:

- Deliver the latest findings on policies and practices in inclusive green growth;
- Identify priorities for action by stakeholders;
- Build capacity of practitioners; and
- Define future research, knowledge-sharing, and collaboration opportunities.

The Ninth Session of the GGGI Council and Fifth Session of the GGGI Assembly will chart the direction for GGGI's innovative, objective, and technically-grounded in-country technical support and cutting-edge, policy relevant knowledge products on green cities, water, energy, and land use for the period 2017-2018.
